RV-103 "Intrepid" Research Vessel

The Intrepid is a scouting exploration vessel, designed for a single occupant, intended to venture ahead of large discovery missions. Equipped with a myriad of scientific arrays, state of the art life support systems, and equally sophisticated defenses, this starship is a standard among solo space explorers. Capable of setting down on nearly any planet and departing whenever one pleases, the Intrepid class starship is home for many across the stars.
